How to Choose the Right Project

1. Identify Needs: Talk to local schools, shelters, or community centers.
2. Match Your Interests: Choose causes you're passionate about.
3. Assess Resources: Consider time, budget, and skills available.
4. Set Clear Goals: Define what success looks like (e.g., number of trees planted).

5. Plan for Sustainability: Think beyond one-off events—how will you maintain impact?

What You Need to Get Started

- Team: Friends, classmates, or club members.
- Budget Plan: Fundraising ideas, small grants, or donations.
- Permissions & Partnerships: School approval, local authority permits, or NGO collaboration.
- Materials & Tools: Depends on project (e.g., gardening tools, art supplies, laptops).
- Timeline & Checklist: Milestones, roles, and deadlines.

Tips for Choosing & Running Your Project

- Pick something you care about
- List what you need: people, tools, space
- Plan steps clearly: who does what, when, where
- Get permission if needed (school or local council)
- Share benefits: tell why it helps the community

What You'll Need

- A small team of friends or volunteers
- Basic supplies (gloves, bags, paper, tools)
- Clear plan and schedule
- Support from an adult or mentor

Benefits of Community Projects

- Learn real-world skills (leadership, planning)
- Make new friends and strengthen bonds
- Improve your neighborhood
- Add meaningful work to your resume

Tips for Project Success

- Communicate Clearly: Use group chats, posters, and regular meetings.
- Delegate Tasks: Assign roles based on strengths (organizer, fundraiser, volunteer coordinator).
- Document Everything: Take photos, keep logs, and collect feedback.
- Promote Widely: Social media, school newsletter, local press.
- Reflect & Improve: After completion, hold a review meeting to note lessons learned.
